

ROOSEVELT LIBEL SUIT WILL NEED ANOTHER WEEK FOR ITS COMPLETION

NO SESSION OF THE COURT WILL BE HELD TODAY—MEETS
TOMORROW FOR HALF DAY ONLY

Testimony of the Fourth Day of the Court Proceedings Against George A. Newett is Substantially a Repetition of That Recorded at Previous Sessions, That the Colonel Does Touch Liquor But So Rarely and Lightly That He is in the Eyes of the Day's Witnesses Virtually a Teetotaler.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 29.—After four days of court proceedings in the libel suit of Theodore Roosevelt against George A. Newett, an Ishpeming editor, who charged the plaintiff with drunkenness it was indicated tonight that another week would be consumed in completing the case. Tomorrow being Memorial day, the trial at the conclusion of today's session announced that court stood adjourned until 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The announcement fell gratefully on the ears of lawyers, witnesses and others who have been under considerable strain. Also there will be no session of court Saturday afternoon.

Colonel Roosevelt said that he had no plans for tomorrow, except that he would seclude himself from participating in public functions. He expressed regret that he could not address the veterans but took the position that as a party to a suit pending, he ought not to take any action which might be construed as unethical.

Attorneys Pound and VanBenschoten for the plaintiff and Beiden and Andrews for the defendant today followed the colonel's trail through nearly every state in the union, across the Atlantic, through the Mediterranean Sea, the Suez canal to Africa, through some of the capitals of Europe and back to Oyster Bay, figuratively smelling his breath for traces of liquor.

Testimony As Repetition.
Substantially, the testimony was a repetition of that recorded at previous sessions; the colonel does touch liquor, but so rarely and so lightly that he is, in the eyes of today's witnesses, virtually a teetotaler.

Those who testified today were Andrew W. Abele, a former railroad fireman of Ohio; Former Judge A. Z. Blair, who disfranchised hundreds of Ohio voters for selling votes when he was on the bench; Charles Willis Thompson, a New York newspaperman; James R. Garfield, Clifford Pinchot, Lawrence Abbott, owner of a magazine of which the plaintiff is one of the editors; Edward Heller, naturalist of the African hunting expedition; O. K. Davis, secretary of the national committee of the Progressive party; Philip Roosevelt, whose father is a first cousin to the former president and Edward Emerson, a newspaper man who was field clerk to the colonel of the rough rider regiment.

Sharp Cross Examination.
Cross examination today was alert to that the memory of witnesses and particularly to make them show that there were real grounds for their declarations of the colonel's sobriety. The newspaper men were searched to show how intimate they had been with the plaintiff; the rough rider and the naturalist were asked how close their sleeping tents were to that of their chief, the lawyers trying to discover if there had not been periods when witnesses could not have known whether the plaintiff was drinking. An instance was the cross-examination of Heller who had never seen the colonel take a drink or show signs of having taken any intoxicant. Attorney Andrews elicited that Heller had been ill in Africa, that the colonel had gone on side trips after game or otherwise when witness was not along and that the witness was very busy taking care of the skins of animals.

Philip Roosevelt Testifies.
Pinchot, former chief forester; Garfield, former cabinet member and Young Philip Roosevelt; familiar with the domestic habits of the plaintiff, were the witnesses of greatest interest today. Philip Roosevelt was asked how old he was and replied:

"Twenty-one."
"What business are you in?" inquired Attorney Young.
"I'm a newspaper man," answered the witness.

"Since when?"
"Since last March."

He testified also that he took the four years course at Harvard in three years. Asked how long he had known Colonel Roosevelt, he replied:

"I've known him all his life." In the midst of the titter which went around the room, he corrected his answer and said he had known the colonel ever since he could remember. On cross-examination Attorney Andrews inquired as to the stock of liquors kept at Roosevelt home.

"Champaign," insinuated the lawyer.
"I don't know, but I suppose so."
"Brandy?"
"I don't know, I suppose so."

"Red wine?"
"I suppose so."
Andrews continued to name over kinds of wines and liquors to which Roosevelt returned the same answer, concluding with "yes, I

Rhine wine, everything you would find in a gentleman's cellar."

An Authority on Colonel's Habits.
Pinchot was anxious to explain just why he considered himself an authority on the colonel's habits and Attorney Pound accordingly framed the proper question. The former chief forester then explained that he was a student of efficiency and that finding Colonel Roosevelt to be a sample of that quality, studied him to discover whence it came. To this purpose he observed the colonel's eating habits, what he drank, how and what he read, how he exercised, how he transacted business, in short, every detail which might further the study. He felt qualified, therefore, to declare that the plaintiff was a man of unusually abstemious habits. Like Garfield and like the newspaper men Thompson, he declared that the colonel could never have got drunk without him knowing it. Thompson told of campaign trips he had made with Colonel Roosevelt and of having been instructed particularly by his paper to study the colonel's habits, how he said things rather than to quote his words; how the crowds and auditors seemed to take his utterances. Thompson testified that, having faithfully "covered" the assignment, he knew that on these trips Colonel Roosevelt could not have become intoxicated without his knowing it.

SCHMIDT DEFEATED BY HILTON IN SIXTH ROUND

Massachusetts Lad Has Nevertheless
Established His Right to Rank
Among the Greatest Young Golfers of the World.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 29.—Though defeated in the sixth round of the amateur golf championship today by Harold H. Hilton, former English and American champion, Heinrich Schmidt, the young player of Worcester, Mass., by his plucky fight, established his right to rank among the greatest young golfers America has produced.

For eighteen holes Schmidt made the Englishman fight every inch of the way. He was out in 39, Hilton in 38 and it was only by running down a 25 foot putt for three that Hilton finally won at the nineteenth hole.

Time and again Schmidt rimmed the cup with long putts. The men were tied on the eighteenth and an extra hole had to be played. Hilton outdrove Schmidt off the tee, but the Massachusetts lad made up on his second. Hilton, however, holed a long putt and won the hole in three against Schmidt's four.

A gallery of 2,000 followed the match but the spectators did not disturb in the least the American's equanimity. He was as cool and as collected at all times as the most seasoned veteran.

In the semi-final round Hilton beat Alymer, West Surrey, by one up and two to play, Harris of Acton for the championship over 36 holes. The strength and technique of Schmidt's game which strongly impressed British golf experts are the result of a short but brilliant career on the links, in which his nerve and indomitable spirit have played a prominent part. Last year he won the Massachusetts association championship. In the American amateur championship played at Wheaton, Ill., last year, he reached the third round and it required no less a player than Charles Evans, Jr., to eliminate him from the semi-final round.

In the United States Golf association handicap list he is ranked in the third class with such players as E. M. Byers, W. C. Fownes, Jr., H. C. Egan, H. C. Legg, Mason Phelps and R. E. Hunter.

HEAT RECORD SMASHED.

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—Heat records for the month of May in this part of the country were broken today when the mercury climbed above the hundred mark in most parts of Kansas. Western Missouri sweltered under only slightly lower temperatures. Abilene, Kan., with 105 appeared to be the heat center. Several prostrations occurred in Kansas, none of them fatal.

In Kansas City the government thermometer went to 96.

FALLS FROM MASONIC TEMPLE.

Chicago, May 29.—Mrs. B. R. Belz of Hinsdale, Ill., was killed today by jumping or falling from a tenth floor window of the Masonic temple to the street. She was 26 years old and wife of a wealthy dyer. A steel net recently was placed across the rotunda of the Masonic temple to prevent suicides from diving to their death on the tiles of the ground floor inside the building.

HOUSE DEBATES OLD AGE PENSION BILL

FINALLY POSTPONED FOR FURTHER CONSIDERATION

Representative King Brings Aged
Peddler Upon the Floor of the House When the Bill is Considered—
Appointments Sent to Senate
For Confirmation.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MAY 29.—The old age pension bill provoked a long debate in the house today which finally ended in postponement of further consideration. The senate debate on the sanitary district bill grew acrimonious at times and finally the body adjourned with the measure still called upon its passage.

By joint resolution the houses adjourned until next Tuesday. Governor Dunne was gratified today by receiving word of the endorsement by the city club of Chicago of his tax bill abolishing the state board of equalization and substituting a state tax commission. The governor and Mrs. Dunne left for Chicago tonight to spend Decoration day.

A reception for the members of the general assembly was held at the executive mansion this evening.

Old Age Pension Bill.
Representative King of Galesburg called up his old age pension bill (H. B. 387) this morning on the order of passage. In opening his argument for the bill he brought upon the floor of the house an old man, 84 years old, who makes a precarious living selling pig corn and chewing gum around Springfield.

Representative Rothschild protested against the bringing of the old man before the house. No one has greater respect for old age than himself, he said, but he objected to bringing an unfortunate into public view in this fashion. He thought the bill should be discussed on its merits and not sentimentally. If the bill goes into effect, he declared, the state will have to raise not less than $5,000,000 and possibly as much as $10,000,000 to meet this one item.

Mr. Steadman asked Mr. Rothschild if he did not think he should offer a substitute for the pending bill instead of quibbling over the provisions of the pending bill. Mr. Rothschild replied that no one man was able to prepare a measure meeting the question adequately.

Mr. King had stated that probably ten thousand people would come under the benefits of the act, said Mr. Rothschild. So far as he personally could determine, he said, at least one hundred thousand would be affected. He discussed the bill at length, opposing a number of its provisions.

Representative Medill McCormick, Progressive, of Chicago, who spoke in opposition to the King bill, declared that he was opposed to the system of old age pensions, but to a loosely constructed measure under which dangerous abuses might develop.

Mr. McCormick attacked the King bill on the ground that it was ill-considered and inadequate and in effect would result in more harm than good. He related the history of various European countries in their experiences with old age pensions.

Governor's Appointments.
The following appointments were sent to the senate today by Governor Dunne for confirmation. Under the rules they lie over for one day:

George I. Kendrick, Pittsfield, public administrator, for Pike county, vice F. W. Niebur.
Edward S. Hill, Cairo, public administrator, Alexander county, the M. L. Gilbert.

W. B. Cooney, Pekin, public administrator, Tazewell county, vice Michael D. Conaghan.

James M. Jenkins, Marion, public administrator, Williamson county, vice W. O. Potter.

H. E. McLaren, Rushville, Schuyler county, trustee western Illinois State Normal school, vice J. F. Mains.

WOMAN DIES OF BURNS.

Winnetka, Man., May 29.—Anne Zahrtuk, aged 24 years, died today from burns sustained after kerosene oil had been poured over her and set on fire. Her husband, Stefan Zahrtuk, has been arrested. It is claimed that the burning of the young woman is in accordance with an old Galician custom. According to the police Zahrtuk accused his wife of unfaithfulness and to prove her innocence she consented to the ordeal. If she screamed it would be an acknowledgment of her guilt. She is said to have borne the agony in silence for some time and then rushed out of her home and called for assistance.

DORO WINS CHAMPIONSHIP.

San Francisco, May 29.—Alfred D'Oro won the three cushion billiard championship of the world from John Horgan in the concluding game of a series here tonight for the Lambert Diamond trophy. The final score was 159 to 120. The Cuban challenger won each of the three games. Tonight's game was the closest of the series, Horgan rolling up 49 points to D'Oro's 50. Each made a high run of five.

DR. REPERT DEAD.

Rockford, Ill., May 29.—Dr. Lyell Reppert, a physician of Muscatine, Ia., died suddenly tonight at Broughton sanitarium, where he was a patient.

MAY EQUALIZE RATES ON TARIFF SCHEDULE

Senate Finance Committee
Undecided How Schedule Should Be Revised

MAY ADD TO FREE LIST

Equalization of Materials and
Their Products in Schedule
G Endorsed By Wilson

PROTEST INCOME TAX SECTION

WASHINGTON, MAY 29.—Whether to put cattle, wheat and oats on the free list is one of the absorbing problems of the senate finance committee just now revising the Underwood tariff bill for senate consideration. Senator Simmons, chairman of the committee, discussed the matter with President Wilson today.

The president is reported to have agreed with Senator Simmons that the raw material and their products in the agricultural schedule should be equalized in the bill, instead of placing raw products on the dutiable list and making meats and flour free in the bill at present. Whether the president agreed to free listing of the raw materials or urged that the agricultural products be made dutiable in conformity to the Underwood rates on raw materials was not disclosed after today's conference.

Free wool and free sugar as provided for in the Underwood bill tonight are regarded to be in a stronger position than ever and the tightening of the strings on these administrative measures is reported to be due largely to President Wilson's recent attack on the efforts of lobbyists to change the sentiment as to the schedules.

Insurance Men Protest.

Again today the Williams subcommittee was at work on the income tax section of the bill and a comprehensive brief, supplementing his oral testimony, was filed by Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance company, opposed to the taxing of mutual life insurance companies. Maintaining that life insurance companies are of great benefit to the country, Mr. Kingsley pointed out what he said were inconsistencies in the bill and revealed a point hitherto not discussed that "the bill entirely ignores the fundamental provision which says that incomes under $4,000 shall not be taxed."

"Not ten per cent of the policy holders in co-operative or mutual companies have incomes over $4,000," Mr. Kingsley asserted. "Yet this bill proceeds to tax a man, however small his income, merely because he insures his life."

Declaring that there are not profits in mutual life insurance companies and that they should be exempted from the income tax just as mutual fire insurance and other organizations will be, Mr. Kingsley pointed out that by state and federal governments life insurance companies are taxed $28,500,000 annually, $1,500,000 being the corporation tax which is to be re-enacted in this bill.

Adopted Resolution.
After a sharp debate over terms, the senate tonight adopted a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to investigate the charge that a lobby is being maintained in Washington to influence legislation with particular emphasis on the Underwood tariff bill. The resolution was in direct response to the public statement by President Wilson that a powerful lobby was operating against the tariff bill.

President Wilson in his talk with the newspaper correspondents today declared that he was in sympathy with the proposed investigation and would be glad to furnish the names of the lobbyists to whom he referred if "public necessity required."

He added that if a senate committee were charged with the investigation it would have ample powers to obtain information. Under the resolution which was adopted as introduced by Senator Cummins with amendments by Senator Kern, the judiciary committee is directed to report its findings within ten days and hearings probably will begin at once.

The president is respectfully invited "to aid the committee by giving to it any information in his possession" relating to the investigation.

Will Not Delay Investigation.
Senators held that since the president had issued a statement which might be understood to reflect upon the honor of the senate, an investigation should not be delayed. A sharp colloquy arose, however, when Senator Kern proposed an amendment to that part of the resolution dealing with the testimony of senators and the information to be obtained from the president. The Cummins resolution, the original measure, provided that the committee take the statement under oath of all senators who have received representations during the present session "regarding pending legisla-

STEAMER CRASHES ON ROCKS IN DENSE FOG

WIRELESS PROVES ITS EFFICIENCY AND BRINGS QUICK RESCUE

Tugs Promptly Respond to Alarm and All Passengers Were Brought Safely to Shore Before Dusk—
Steamer Is Puffed Off Rocks by Tugs at Midnight.

QUEENSTOWN, MAY 29.—The American line steamer Haverford, which sailed yesterday from Liverpool for Philadelphia with 134 cabin and 850 steerage passengers aboard, went on the rocks westward of Cork's Head this afternoon in a dense fog.

The wireless again demonstrated its efficiency. By its aid what might have been a disaster was converted into a mere accident. Within a few minutes the ship was in communication with Queenstown. First aid in the form of great tugs were going to the rescue as fire engines respond to an alarm.

Before dusk all the passengers with light luggage had been safely brought ashore at this harbor. The company has arranged to forward them to their destination. When the last passenger was taken off there were fifteen feet of water in the fore-hold of the vessel. Most of the passengers thought the position of the Haverford was hopeless because of the big hole in the forward compartment, but shipping men are more optimistic. There was considerable anxiety aboard the American liner, as she was shrouded in the densest fog, but nothing resembling a panic. The officers, however, wasted no time and had 400 of the passengers board the tugs before the Hesperus and Stormcock dove in sight. The latter soon took off the remainder. The transfer was made in perfect order. The captain and crew remained on the ship.

The heavy baggage of the passengers is likely to be lost if the ship breaks up. When the passengers were ordered to disembark, one of the women refused to leave until her bull-dog was brought up from below.

There were a number of Americans among the cabin passengers.

Steamer Is Released.
Queenstown, May 30.—The steamship Haverford was pulled off the rocks by tugs at midnight and towed here.

HOTTEST DAY IN YEARS.

Des Moines, Ia., May 29.—Iowa suffered its hottest May day since records have been kept in the state today. The government records was above ninety degrees for five hours.

Fifty school children taking part in the annual athletic exhibition of the Des Moines grades were prostrated by the heat and only heroic emergency work prevented several deaths.

GIBSON JURY DISCHARGED.

Newburgh, N. C., May 29.—The jury in the case of Burton W. Gibson, after deliberating for nearly twenty-five hours was discharged late today unable to agree as to his guilt on a charge of murdering Mrs. Rosa Menschik-Szaboe. At a previous trial the jury was unable to agree. The court remanded Gibson to the Goshen jail but District Attorney Wilson would take no further proceedings against Gibson for the present.

Mr. Kern's amendment authorized the committee to "ascertain the character of representations made to influence legislation by any persons and the names of senators to whom they were made."

The Kern amendment was adopted on a strictly party vote, 38 to 28 and the resolution by a viva voce vote, without apparent dissent.

Although the debate grew warm at times, there were many exchanges which brought laughter from both sides of the chamber. Just before the vote was taken Senator Fall suggested that an investigation be made of relations borne by any senator to any business of any sort in the United States.

"Or abroad," said Senator Thomas, and the whole senate joined in the laugh. Senator Kern declared very large part of the session would be taken up if all senators would tell the committee all the conversations they had had in regard to the tariff.

Learned to Recognize Lobbyists.

Senator Penrose told the senate he could not understand the shrinking of the Democrats from appearing before the committee with information about the persons with whom they had talked. He said he had learned to recognize instantly both the lobbyist and the business man who came to Washington with extravagant claims.

"It is for the new senators I am anxious," continued the senator. "Gold bricks are floating around thick." He said that while much had been said about the "plain people" at the last election, he had seen only time-battered lobbyists who had been addressing Republican majorities for the last twenty-five years around the capitol this summer.

Another bill proposing the registration of all lobbyists was introduced today by Senator Weeks. At the end of each session employers of legislative agents would be required to file a statement of the sums they had spent.

ALL READY TO START ANNUAL 500 MILE RACE

CROWD OF AT LEAST 100,000 EX-PECTED TO BE IN ATTENDANCE

Twenty Seven Cars Will Line Up
For Race at Ten O'clock and Will Make One Lap to Get Flying Start
For Gruelling Grind of 200 Times
Around the Track.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., MAY 29.—With the completion of the time trials to day everything is in readiness for the start of the third annual 500 mile automobile race at the speedway at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Cash prizes of $75,000 and valuable trophies are offered for the drivers.

Showers are predicted by the local weather bureau for Memorial Day but once the race gets underway the speed way management has decided nothing shall stop it. In case the rain is heavy enough to prevent the start the race will be run on Saturday, conditions permitting.

Tonight the streets are filled with automobiles and sidewalks are crowded with enthusiasts. The hotels are booked to their capacity and practically all the private homes where rooms were listed have been filled. The weather is warm and many were allowed to sleep in the parks tonight. A number of special trains were scheduled to arrive early tomorrow, bringing additional large crowds. Among the specials are those from Peoria, Bloomington and Champaign, Illinois.

Preceding the start of the race there will be a parade with six bands. This will be followed by the "parade of nations" at 8:30 o'clock. The twenty-seven cars will line up for the race. Carl G. Fisher, millionaire sportsman and president of the speedway company will pace the entrants one lap which will not count and at completion of the round a bomb will start the best cars of five nations away on the gruelling grind of 200 times around the track.

With the flying start it is believed the cars will be making 50 miles an hour when they cross the wire. The speedway management reported tonight that they expected at least 100,000 would attend. It was estimated that 80,000 persons attended last year's contest.

More than 200 newspaper men are here to write the story of the race, one coming from Paris, France.

Bob Burman continued to be the favorite in the betting to day, with several other American entries being given odds above the foreign made cars.

MASKED BANDITS HOLD UP PAY WAGON

Kill One Man and Wound
Three Others in Effort to Secure Money

ESCAPES WITH CASH

$6,000 is Saved for Company
By Wild Dash of Wounded
Officer Who Escapes

BLOODHOUNDS NOW ON TRAIL

LASALLE, ILL., MAY 29.—Four masked bandit held up a pay wagon of the Illinois Zinc company, five miles southeast of here this afternoon, killed one man and wounded three others, but $6,000 in cash for semi-monthly pay of 160 miners was saved by a wild dash of a wounded officer under fire of the robbers, who escaped. The dead:

Ben Dierks, former police chief, Peru, Ill., acting as guard for zinc company men; instantly killed by bandits.

The wounded:
Elmer West, clerk Illinois Zinc company, shot in head, neck and chest; brought to LaSalle, condition critical.

F. D. Richmond, civil engineer zinc company, shot in back, flesh wounds; shot removed and able to help pay off men.

Henry Oesterle, employe of the company, glancing shot in head also shot in arm and body; condition not serious.

Money for the payroll was sent to the Black Hollow mine in two buggies in charge of these four men. A mile from the destination a gang of robbers sprang up from the brush surrounding the road way. Without attempting to take the money from the rigs the robbers opened fire on the quartette of men in the wagons. The bandits used automatic shotguns and the first shots killed Dierks, who was driving the second rig. West also fell at the first volley.

Escapes With Money.

Richmond, who was in the rig with West and the money, whipped up the horse and fled, while the robbers stood in the middle of the road and continued to fire at him. As soon as they saw the first rig making successful escape, the bandits left the other rig unmolested and fled through the woods. When Dierks fell dead in the second buggy, Oesterle grabbed the reins and whipped up his horse and followed the other rig to the zinc company's mine, where they turned the money over to officials. The miners were paid off and then joined in searching for the robbers. Richmond's quickness of mind and bravery in making a dash under fire saved the money and the miners gave him three cheers. Police officials from LaSalle and Peru started for the scene in automobiles equipped with rifles.

Messages have been sent to Springfield for bloodhounds and the dogs will reach LaSalle at midnight. In the meantime the place of the holdup is being guarded so that it will be untouched when the hounds are put on the trail. LaSalle has offered Sheriff Mischke a posse of fifty if needed.

Familiar With Pay System.

Streator, Ill., May 29.—That the bandits were former miners familiar with the system of paying at the plant is the opinion of the police. To confirm this suspicion, the officers point to the fact that the robbers apparently knew the paymaster and his assistants and therefore covered their faces to prevent recognition.

When the vehicle galloped away the bandits ceased their efforts, except to fire futilely after the buggies and dashed into the woods. The desperate action of the men in firing on the pay rigs before any demands were made for the money leads the police to believe that the men may have had a grievance against the paymaster and others in the party. There was great excitement throughout the zinc mine region tonight over the fatal attempt to steal the miners' pay. There has never been so desperate attempt at robbery in the mining region that spreads for many miles to the south and west of LaSalle.

Men Cross River.

Four men, thought to be the bandits who killed Dierks overpowered William Morris, a fisherman and crossed the Illinois river in his boat a mile north of the scene of the shooting. Morris reported the fight of the men to Sheriff Mischke. The men, according to Morris, appeared suddenly and demanded his boat a short time after the attempted hold-up.

Morris described the men as of foreign appearance.

Shortly after boys searching between the river and the road found a repeating shot gun, a long barreled revolver, a hunting dog, a short overcoat and two derby hats.

The bloodhounds will be put on the trail both at the road and at the point where the men crossed the river.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN TO SIXTY NINE

LARGE CLASS GRADUATES FROM HIGH SCHOOL.

Prof. H. W. Shryock of Carbondale Gives Principal Address on "Making a Living"—William W. Ktner Valedictorian of Class.

Sixty-nine pupils, the second largest class in the history of the Jacksonville High school, graduated last night. The exercises were held in the Grand Opera house and the principal address was by Prof. H. W. Shryock of the Southern Illinois State Normal university at Carbondale. William Walter Ktner is valedictorian of the class.

Heretofore it has been the custom for the honor pupils to appear on the program, but by a vote of the class this year the students agreed to abolish this form and invite an out of town speaker to make the address of the evening. This matter was laid before the board of education, who thought the idea a good one, hence the change.

Excepting the class of 1910, which contained seventy-two members, the class of last night is the second largest in the history of the school. During the four year course the pupils have distinguished themselves both in school work and in the various enterprises of the institution.

Every available seat in the opera house was filled long before the time of the opening exercises. There was no attempt at decorations and the seniors occupied seats on the platform, taking their places while Jeffries orchestra played a march. A splendid program of music was played by the orchestra from 7 o'clock till 8. The invocation was given by Rev. J. H. Davis, pastor of Westminster church. The Glee club, under the direction of Miss Goodrich, sang "God of the Nations," by Verdi; "The Old Year," by Kloss; "On the Lake," by Cottrill; "Soldiers' Chorus," by Gounod.

Prof. Shryock's Address.
The speaker of the evening, Prof. H. W. Shryock of Carbondale, was introduced by Principal W. A. Gore. Prof. Shryock was most felicitous in his opening remarks, taking occasion to thank the school for the opportunity they give him of speaking at this time. In part he said: "Of all the school gatherings the commencement time is the greatest. The sentiment attached to such an occasion as this is one that never leaves us, although we may wander far from the shadow of the old school building and its daily tasks. At such a time as this we are impressed with the fact that we are in the presence of mortals. Youth never knows it is immortal. It looks, acts, speaks, and has to do with the present things, with every nerve and sinew of the body ready for the fray. As my own shadow begins to grow less I have a feeling of envy toward these high school graduates, who have before them the future with all its immeasurable and brilliant opportunities. Each young person before me has it in their own being to make of themselves just what they want to be; the only question is, are they willing to pay the price? It costs something to accomplish the great things of life, and it is often the case that boys and girls look at the long hard road and say to themselves, the goal can never be reached. We who are older must remain just where we are. We do not have this broad field to look into as does the high school graduate. How beautiful is youth with all its dreams, its inspirations, its happiness. Ah, this is a time which the older person looks back upon and sees where the mistakes have been made and where bigger things might have been wrought."

Blessedness of Poverty.
"For thirty years I have been an interpreter of literature to young people. I have never been an entertainer, and I do not come to entertain you this evening, but if by chance to drop a word of truth that will inspire these young people to a nobler life. We hear a great deal about the blessedness of poverty. I have never seen that blessedness. Those who speak in its behalf tell of the achievements of poor boys such as Lincoln and Garfield. For every genius that is born in the world there is a million of people who die in poverty. If I wanted to paint a picture of deepest despair, I would not tell you of the feelings which came to Henry Clay or Blaine, who had their hearts set on holding the highest office in the United States. I would not tell you of Napoleon, whose great military achievements finally led him to St. Helena, nor would I tell you of the great work of the masters of paint and brush, but I would paint you the picture of the father who sees his children in rags, wife toiling and slaving, hoping to gain an honest dollar in which to clothe their little ones. Poverty is full of pain, it is to be dreaded, but not necessary something to be ashamed of. What would a man endure to get from out of the grip of poverty. He will hazard his very self in order that others might live. But it is not my purpose to tell you the story of poverty, but to tell these young people how to make a living."

"My subject says, 'Making a Living.' In the first place the public school system should plan to give every child, in the near future, such a training that he will be a valuable industrial unit. Our civilization is so complex that the school infuses itself into the life of the country. Those who have visited Zurich, Switzerland, are impressed with the industrial life of that city. While the people there are not rich, there seems to be a spirit of industry. This organization makes the problem of the boy and girl one easy to solve. Here is found the three great industries, cotton mills, silk industry and jewelry. The child starts early, naturally to follow in the footsteps of his father. This is a great secret and should command our careful study.

Parents Scored For Indulgence.
"Our school system should develop force of character. In the United States, perhaps of all nations, parents are over indulgent to their children. They appear so delighted to let their boys and girls do just as they please, thinking it is best for the children."

Parents are unwilling to allow their children to work. If the boys and girls in Jacksonville had to carry the load one month the children of England, France or Germany has to carry, what a howl would go up from indulgent fathers and mothers. Saving many a boy from hardships has ruined him. Every father ought to be branded a criminal, who will bring a child up to believe that work is not sacred that honest toil should be shunned.

The public school should give the pupil the right standard of what life is. Human life has ever been Epicurean in purpose and it is right that we should seek happiness, for it is the highest good. It is a good philosophy that teaches the happiness can be gained in this world. The trouble is that some have wrong standards if what true happiness is. The man who drinks, swears, indulges in many forms of dissipation thinks that the highest happiness is found in these things.

The school system should enable the pupils to find happiness in the daily tasks of life. The artist finds an ideal existence. What he sees he puts on canvas. The poet dreams and put his thoughts in verse, as does the musician and the sculptor in respective works. Wm. Morris has said that "art is simply working joy into the work." The merchant, the mechanic, the farmer, the good house wife can all share in this real happiness, if the will and right purpose animates them.

But the final secret of the whole matter is summed up in the blessedness of service. What rich inheritance is that left to a son by a father and mother who has installed in the child the great returns to be found in serving others. How it enlarges the vision, keeps the mind and heart pure and makes life worth while. It takes the common things of life and turns them into great moving factors for good.

After the most excellent address by Prof. Shryock, Supt. W. A. Gore was heard in a few brief remarks in which he told of the large class and that each year there was noticed a steady growth in the number of pupils to graduate. He compared the time when it was thought a great thing if between fifty and sixty pupils graduated. While Jeffries band played another selection the graduates marched before the superintendent to receive their diplomas. Following the exercises a great many from the audience lingered to extend their congratulations to the members of the class.

MEMORIAL DAY AT FRANKLIN

Memorial day will be observed at Franklin with a program in the Franklin park this afternoon, the address to be delivered by H. H. Bancroft of this city. Following the program the graves at the cemetery will be decorated.

FLAG DAY WILL BE OBSERVED IN JACKSONVILLE

Daughters of Revolution Appoint Committee to Make Arrangements—American Flag Day Association—Makes Suggestions.

Members of Rev. James Caldwell Chapter, D. A. R., recently appointed a committee to arrange for the observance of Flag Day which is Saturday, June 14. The American Flag association which was organized in 1897 to promote reverence for and prevent desecration of the U. S. flag, has sent out a circular letter calling attention to flag day. In part the circular says:

"In accordance with its custom for the past sixteen years, the American Flag association reminds you that Saturday, June 14, 1913, will be the 136th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes, as the Flag of our country. The public recognition of Flag Day as a national anniversary, each year becoming more and more general, would seem to make unnecessary any reminder to secure your co-operation in securing the widest possible observance this year. The governors of many of the states have in the past, by their proclamations, called public attention to the day and ordered the flag to be displayed on all state buildings, and invited their fellow citizens to celebrate the day. Mayors of cities, for recognition of this anniversary, have in the past also ordered flags to be displayed upon the municipal buildings of their respective cities, and by formal proclamation or otherwise, invited their fellow citizens to do the same upon their private buildings.

"The American people, from year to year, more and more, and with a growing enthusiasm have celebrated the day. All American citizens are again earnestly invited to join in the public recognition of the birthday of the emblem of our nationality. In many of the states, pursuant to law, the public schools, and also voluntarily in private schools, exercises will be conducted in celebration of Flag Day. Let us extend this practice. Teach the story of the flag, what it represents, and have the young people pledge their fealty and loyalty to it.

"On the 14th day of June, 1777, congress enacted: 'That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation.' The number of the stripes having been increased by the admission of new states; the possibilities of the nation's future development dawned upon our fathers, the original thirteen stripes were unchangeably restored by act of congress on April 4, 1818, when it was enacted: 'That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be twenty stars, white, in a blue field, and that on the admission of a new state into the union, one star be added to the union of the flag, and such addition take effect on the fourth day of July next, succeeding such admission.'

"Since the struggle of 1861-1865, the flag has become the symbol of a mighty nation. It has been carried to the utmost parts of the earth, carrying liberty wherever it has been thrown to the breeze. The stars and stripes, within the recent past, have come to possess new beauty for friendly eyes and new terror for the foes of liberty."

WILL DEDICATE MONUMENT TODAY TO MEMORY OF MEN OF THE MAINE

Taft, Sulzer, Daniels and Governor of Maine Will Assist in Dedication of the Statue.

New York, May 29.—With the presence here tonight of Secretary of Navy Daniels, a dozen battleships and the Cruiser Cuba of the Cuban Navy in the harbor and representatives of the Cuban government and 180 Cuban soldiers the stage was set for the dedication of the entrance to Central Park tomorrow of the monument to the memory of the American officers and bluejackets who were lost with the battleship Maine in Havana harbor 15 years ago. The event will be the crowning feature of New York City's Memorial day programme. Former President Taft, Secretary Daniels, Secretary of War Garrison, Governor Sulzer of New York and Governor Haines of Maine will assist in dedicating the statue.

THREE VETERANS DIE.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 29.—The closing ceremonies of reunion week of the United States Confederate Veterans here today were saddened by the deaths of three aged soldiers whose strength had been over taxed by the demands of the day. Death stalked in the parade this afternoon.

G. W. Mullenix, of Lindale, Ga., dropped out of the ranks and entered a restaurant, where he expired suddenly.

Robert Nolan, of Houston, Texas, overcame, fell down the steps of the city auditorium and suffered a broken neck.

B. F. Moore, of Fuque, Texas, who suffered a fall yesterday died today. Several other of the veterans who marched today in the parade, were overcome by exhaustion and were said to be in serious condition.

ATHLETES GATHER AT CAMBRIDGE.

Cambridge, Mass., May 29.—The best athletic productions of a majority of the large universities and colleges in the east, augmented by high class delegations from Michigan and California were gathered here today from the 38th inter-collegiate championship games in the Harvard stadium tomorrow and Saturday. The weaker portion of the 700 runners, leapers and jumpers and weight hurlers will be eliminated tomorrow in the trials and on Saturday the team scoring the largest number of points will carry home the championship. The University of Pennsylvania will defend the title won last year and many close followers of the sport believe that the red and blue will be successful again.

WILL SHUT DOWN FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD

Boston, May 29.—The plants of the B. F. Sturtevant and company and of the Becker Milling Machine company from which 1200 workmen walked out on strike today, probably will be shut down indefinitely, according to a statement made tonight by Governor Foss who owns a controlling interest in both firms.

Recently in refusing the 20 per cent increase in wages demanded by the men Governor Foss said that changes expected in the pending tariff law made it impossible to grant any advance.

EXPERTS REPORT ON LONG BEACH DISASTER.

Long Beach, Cal., May 29.—The collapse of one girder, originally too slender to bear the burdens intended for it which had almost rotted away, caused the wrecking of the Municipal Auditorium pier last Saturday with its loss of nearly forty lives. This was the explanation given by the board of three experts appointed to investigate the disaster in its official report to the corner's jury today. There was no mention of responsibility.

'CARNEY THROUGH WITH FIGHT GAME.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—"I will never manage another fighter nor attend another bout," declared William McCarney who arrived here today with the body of Luther McCarty who was killed during his fight with Arthur Pelkey at Calgary, Alberta, last Saturday. Mrs. McCarty, widow of the dead fighter, met the train at Fargo, N. D. and is accompanying the remains to Piqua, O.

Referee Ed W. Smith of Chicago and Fred Sears, trainer of the dead pugilist also are accompanying the remains to the home of McCarty's parents.

JUDGE HOYT DEAD.

Muskogee, Okla., May 29.—Judge William R. Hoyt, former United States commissioner in Alaska and in the Indian Territory died at his home here today aged 68 years. He was a veteran of the Civil War. Three years ago, without his solicitation, an official order was made by the war department that his body should be buried at the National Cemetery at Fort Gibson. This order was due to an erroneous report that he was then dead. Since then Judge Hoyt has carried his burial permit in his pocket.

HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Danville, Ill., May 29.—Mrs. Mary Barnhart, wife of a street railway motorman, was killed here today by an automobile owned by Albert S. Bowers of Tolono, and driven by Charles O. Summers of that place. She had just stepped from a car when struck down.

Following a coroner's inquest Summers was arrested on a charge of murder and was locked up.

KILLED BY LOCOMOTIVE.

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—Edwin A. Wilson, a prominent and wealthy dealer of this city, was struck by the locomotive of a westbound Baltimore & Ohio passenger train at Nineteenth and Jackson streets and killed. He had stepped from the Illinois Central track to the Baltimore & Ohio tracks when the accident occurred.

BOY FALLS FROM MOTORCYCLE IN FRONT OF HORSE THURSDAY

Paul Wells Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury—Horse Struck By Street Car.

Thursday, shortly before noon, Paul Wells fell from a motorcycle in front of Dr. Kopper's office on West State street and came near being run over by a horse. The animal, driven by Earl Johnston, was struck by a street car near Sandusky street on West State street, but the only damage that resulted was a broken shaft.

Paul Wells has just started west on State street on the motorcycle and when he turned the power on the machine increased its speed with a jerk, with the result that before he could jump on, the young man lost control of the motorcycle which fell to the pavement in front of the horse being driven by Earl Johnston. The driver stopped the horse just before it struck the motorcycle and the only damage to the young man was a scratched arm.

Mr. Johnston drove on out West State street and when he was near Sandusky street the horse, which had been quite nervous as a result of the other accident, became frightened at an approaching street car, and before the driver could hold him back the animal got on the track. The motorman stopped his car as quickly as possible but not before it struck the vehicle. The only damage from the collision was a broken shaft.

KING OF COLORS.

Red Has More Meaning and Greater Effect Than Any Other Hue.

Red has a greater effect upon both man and the lower animals than any other color. It is, in fact, the king of colors, according to Professor W. Peabody Bartlett.

"Perhaps," says Professor Bartlett, "if our blood were green instead of red we would hold green as the king of colors, because blood is life. The sight of it stirs both man and the lower animals, and for that reason the color of it is the most effective of all colors."

Every one knows the antipathy a bull has to red, how he will bellow and become blindly enraged at the sight of it, but the bull is by no means the only animal that is affected by this color. Put a dog in a kennel and cover the end that opens to daylight with a white cloth or a black cloth, and the dog will pay little attention to it, but cover the opening with a bright red cloth so that the daylight comes through to the dog in a red glow, and the dog will at once begin to bark furiously.

Put a rooster in a dark bag or a green or yellow bag and he will remain quiet, but put him in a bag of thin red cloth, so that the light may shine through and show the color, and the rooster will crow lustily. This is not because he might think the red indicated sunrise, because roosters will crow long before the first faint tinge of color appears in the east.

In one experiment a spider and a wasp were placed in a glass bottle and seemed to get along very comfortably, with no attempt at fighting each other, but as soon as they were put in a bottle of red glass they began to fight until they had killed each other.

Hold three apples before a baby, one green, one yellow and one a bright red, and the child will almost invariably pick the red apple. The color appeals to it. Red blooms in the cheek of beauty and touches the lips of feminine youth. Red plays a great part in life, and it may be, as Professor Bartlett says, due to the fact that red is the color of blood and blood is life, so it seems from humble wasp and fish to rooster, dog, bull, and so on through the list of lower animals to man and woman, red has more meaning and greater effect than any other color, making it indeed the king of colors.—New York American.

METAL OF THE STANDARDS.

Iridio-Platinum and Its Qualities of Accuracy and Durability.

There are undoubtedly no products of human skill on which a greater degree of care is expended than the standard of weight and measure in use among the civilized nations. Two things in particular must be considered—accuracy and durability. Nature does not, it is contended, furnish any single metal or mineral which exactly answers the requirements for a standard of measure or weight that shall be as nearly as possible unalterable.

It is held that the best substance yet produced for this purpose is an alloy of 90 per cent platinum with 10 per cent of iridium. This is called iridio-platinum, and it is the substance of which the metric standards prepared by the international commission of weights and measures are composed.

It is hard, it is less affected by heat than any pure metal, it is practically nonoxidizable, or not subject to rust, and it can be finely engraved. In fact, the lines on the standard meters are hardly visible to the naked eye, yet they are smooth, even, sharp and accurate.

It is said that if our civilization should ever be lost and relics of it should be discovered in some brighter age in the remote future there is nothing which would bear higher testimony to its character than these standard measures of iridio-platinum.—Harper's Weekly.

ON THE SIDE LINES.

Good news in a double sense from the White Sox. They were poor their game and Russell was the boy of not for them. This shows that he was not so badly hurt as was feared. It was the peerless Cobb's fault that the game went against his team mates. It is only occasionally that Ty errs, but when he does something has to give way.

Harry Lord is getting back into the base stealing column where he used to be a shining light. Two pilferings off Stange look pretty good for the veteran. Ray Collins was also in on the count. It must be that Willett got careless as it is an unusual thing to have so many steals registered against him with Stange back of the log.

Owne Bush must have quit the day feeling pretty well satisfied with himself. Three hits off the mighty Lefty is not so bad, especially when you consider that this phenomenal pitcher is about topping the league this spring.

Today is the first big holiday of the year and morning and afternoon games will be played all around. The attendance record should suffer in every city where the weather is anywhere near decent.

It took about all the Athletics had to beat the Yankees. One thing is certain, the Highlanders may not finish in the first division this year but they make every club that plays them work for all their victories. In years past the Yanks were beaten before going on the field. Frank Chance is changing all that.

The Boston-Brooklyn game was a corker as far as it went. The Braves seem to get better as the season advances. They were going fast and would have probably annexed that game.

With fifteen hits against eight it would seem that the Sox should have been larger than it was in the Athletic-New York game. Probably scattered, most of them. Baker got back into his old time form and whaled them out like a world's champion.

President Wilson got back on the job as mascot yesterday and the Senators won. Now that he is responsible for the return to for of the Washingtons he players will probably send a cab for him every game. It won't take much urging to get him to drop things and run out to the game. And we guess the country's business will get along all right in the meantime.

The Washington line up looks better with Gandil back at first. Would that Foster could recover in time to take his place at third before the club starts on its next trip west. LaPorte is doing well but the fine work of the great third baseman is sadly missed.

Snyder, the St. Louis pitcher, is making good for Quincy. The Whig says that McNulty, the umpire, has been called to Chicago by President Kearney and will be asked to explain the trouble between himself and the scorers at Quincy about that no-hit game he claimed Kuepper pitched. Hackett may be reinstated at an early date thinks the Whig.

Clyde Milan registered a three bagger off O'Brien. With most players it would probably have been only a double. Clyde has a habit of stretching his long hits farther than most of the boys.

Sounds like old times to read Fred Clark's name in the line up. That game between the Pirates and Cubs was a real old time hair-raiser. The youngsters won most of the glory of the contest. Hyatt seems to be plugging that hole at first, so long a nightmare to the Pirate management. And young Boone is showing that he is of the real quality, just as his friends always maintained that he would. No team has any license to take a game from Pittsburgh these days. A credit to Manager Clarke's staying power. Everybody had the Pirates down and out not so long ago. But they reckoned without the resourceful and persevering man that runs the team.

If Huggins and Tinker had had any more pitchers in form they'd probably have called on 'em in that wild and weird game at St. Louis yesterday. It is time that Miller was jacking up those Cards. They are not playing as snappy a game as a week or so ago. Maybe their great record on the road turned their heads. Trust Huggins to bring them to time in short order.

LEAVE SCHOOL BECAUSE THE TASKS ARE IRKSOME.

Bulletin Just Issued by Department of Education Combats Idea That Money Consideration is Cause of Girls Quitting School.

The idea that children leave school to go to work, because their parents need the money, is vigorously combated in a bulletin just issued by the United States Bureau of Education. The authors of the bulletin have made a careful study of trade and labor conditions among girls in Worcester, Mass., preliminary to the establishment of a trade school for girls. They find that from one-half to three-fourths of the girls at work in the factories could have had further schooling if they had wanted to or if their parents had cared to insist upon it.

The survey showed that the number of girls between 14 and 16 years of age who leave school is constantly increasing. During the past five years many more girls between those ages left the Worcester schools than can be accounted for by increase in population. Only about 17 per cent of them had finished the grammar school; most of them left in the sixth and seventh grades.

Why did the girls leave school? Various reasons were assigned by the girls themselves. Some thirty girls said they "did not like school"; "could not get along with the teacher"; "were not promoted or wanted to go to work. Two were working to help pay for a piano. One of these was a girl of 14 years who had left the eighth grade to go to work in a department store for $2, later $2.50 a week. Another girl of 15 from the eighth grade, who went to work in a corset factory for $1 and rose to $4.82. Still another girl was taking music lessons and contributing to the payment on the piano.

Twenty-seven girls were found at home. In some cases they had left to help in housework, while a few had left at a time of temporary stress and then had not returned to school. Four girls had changed places with the mother, who worked in a corset factory, laundry or some such place, while the girl, whose wage-earning power was small, kept house for the mother and children.

Curious differences as to what the parents thought they could afford were discovered. "The mother of a family of 8 children, living in apparently direst poverty, would have been glad to have sacrificed and pinched still further to have had her daughter stay in school longer, if she would. The mother of another family of 6, living in a comfortable apartment house, with hardwood floors, piano, and other luxuries, said her daughter wished to stay in school longer, but the burden of supporting the family was too heavy for the father to bear alone; so the girl was taken out of school to go to work. A visit to a Swedish family revealed a carpenter and his wife, a washerwoman, who had just built and owned a three story apartment house. Yet the 15-year old daughter with a seventh grade education had been sent to work in a paper-goods factory for $2 a week. "The question 'why did you leave school?' was put to some 336 more mature workers in the corset trade. Ninety-one per cent of these women had left school between the ages of 13 and 16, and fully 50 per cent because of their dislike of school or because they wanted to go to work. Of 74 workers in a clothing factory, 85 per cent had left school between the ages of 13 and 15, 25 per cent of their own volition."

In the opinion of the authors of the bulletin, conditions such as were found in Worcester emphasize the imperative need for special training of a practical sort for girls between the ages of 13 and 15. In the main the children left school simply because they disliked the school work. Not getting the kind of training they might have liked and would have profited by, they blindly joined the army of shifting, inefficient, discontented girls that go from one monotonous factory job to another, and, because of their lack of training, rarely rise above the class of low-paid, unskilled workers.

OLD AGE DEFERRED

Echo From the Medico-Legal Society.

A few generations back a man at 50 was considered old, gray-bearded, and waiting for death. Note the change today; at a meeting of the Medico-Legal society it was stated that a man of 50 ought to have forty good years ahead of him and; thus at 90 be in the fullness of maturity.

What if you have seen sixty, or seventy birthdays—temperate habits, fresh air and exercise, with a simple diet and a sufficient amount of sleep will guard your health.

If perchance, your circulation is poor, if you become run down—weak and no appetite—nothing in the world will tone up those tired back-sliding organs—enrich the blood and create strength so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

POULTRY CULTURE.

Article V.

Objects.—The aims, objects and ideals of poultrymen vary greatly according to their personal characteristics and surrounding conditions. It is customary to divide poultry keepers into two classes, those who keep poultry for profit and those who keep poultry for pleasure. This division, however, is not scientific and furthermore these two classes are ever drawing closer together. The fancier and small producer is constantly trying to make his flock profitable, while the business poultryman is coming more and more to see that he has much in common with the fancier.

In our discussion of poultry keeping we shall vary from the common procedure and consider the subject under the following three headings: (1) As a part of farm stock, (2) As a special business, (3) As fancy poultry.

As a Part of Farm Stock.
Farm Fowls.—On nearly every farm poultry is to be found. From time in memorial, farmer has kept a flock of fowls besides his other live stock. Frequently the farmers looks upon their poultry as a necessary evil. Too often the fowls are allowed to shift for themselves. Any old shed furnishes a roosting place and the fowls the apt to be mongrels or non-descript of every variety. The objects in keeping the fowls are mainly the eggs for cooking purposes and occasionally a dressed fowl for the table.

Usually on every farm, however, there is some one who is interested in fowls or at least desirous of the pocket money which poultry will secure. Some times it is the farmer's boy or more rarely the daughter who takes particular interest in the farm fowls. Oftimes in these days the farmer's wife adds to her many duties the care of the chickens.

The interested poultryman or poultrywoman on the farm soon finds that the mongrel fowls, while well suited to shift for themselves and to survive under the common conditions of their environment do not yield a satisfactory profit for the amount of feed and care bestowed upon them.

Pure Bred Fowls.—Radical changes are necessary for better results. In the first place the mongrels must be discarded or displaced by pure bred fowls. Those, of course, who presume to know anything about poultry are unwilling to keep anything but pure bred stock of the breed best suited for their purpose. Still many farmers, well read in other respects, cling to their flock of dung hill fowls and remain placidly content.

Egg Producers.—It has been demonstrated again and again that mongrel fowls cannot compete in egg production with a pure strain of fowls which has been bred for generations with the single purpose of making them great egg producers.

Care and Housing.—In the second place to get the best returns the farm flock must be kept much more carefully. By keeping fowls in a comfortable winter house eggs in abundance may be obtained when the market price is highest. By keeping the birds clean, disease and consequent losses will be avoided.

Feed.—They may not require a larger quantity of feed than in the old way, but by the exercise of care in the distribution and balancing of the ration the results will be greatly improved.—H. A. McKeene, secretary Illinois Farmers' Institute.

Good for Mullin, old boy. Guess he was not far wrong when he said that he could pitch as well as ever if given a change of scene and a chance to work regularly. There is no more popular a fellow in base ball than the rotund pitcher and he is a good ball player as well.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor to run up a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley's Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says "Of course I recommend Foley Kidney Pills as a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." For sale by the City Drug Store, J. A. Ouermyer.

Constipation at Bottom of Most Serious Illnesses—Avoided by a Simple Remedy.

Trace the origin of the common ills of life and almost invariably you will find that constipation was the cause. It is not to be expected that a mass of fermented food can remain in the system beyond its time without vitating the blood and affecting the nerves and muscles. It congests the entire body.

The results are colds, fevers, piles, headaches and nervousness with its accompanying indigestion and sleeplessness. There is only one thing to do, and that is to remove the trouble; and when nature seems unable to do it, outside aid is necessary. You will find the best of all outside aids a remedy that many thousands are now using for this very purpose, called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Many hundreds of letters are received by Dr. Caldwell telling of the results obtained, and among the enthusiastic letters is one from Docia Wood of Little River Academy, North Carolina, who suffered with constipation and indigestion so badly that she could not sleep well at night and everything she ate distressed her. She writes that after her mother had given her Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she "can eat anything."

It has untold advantages over pills, salts and the various coarse cathartics and purgatives, for while these do but temporary good, Syrup Pepsin cures permanently. The effect of its action is to train the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally again, and in a short time all forms of medicine can be dispensed with. It can be bought without inconvenience at any nearby drug store for fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being regularly bought by those who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

WRITES OF LIFE IN LANDS FAR AWAY

MANILA A CITY OF MANY WONDERS AND INTEREST.

Jacksonville Tourists Have Reached the Flower Kingdom—Landed First on Island of Hongkong.

(Continued From Thursday.) We visited the bureau of sciences, where is the seismograph, which tells of earthquakes in almost any part of the world, is a regular weather bureau and many other things. This was founded by a Jesuit priest and is now endowed by the government and conducted still by priests of the order. They received us very politely and showed us through the wonderful place.

The missions do not in any way try to compete with the government schools, nor do they maintain hospitals except where they are not of a public character. They simply endeavor to fit and prepare young people to go out and do what they may for the betterment and uplifting of their fellowmen and in that line they are doing a noble work and much more could be written concerning them. They are a fine class of men and women and are worthy of all support and encouragement.

To Sum Up.

Of course I have not been here long enough to study conditions at all thoroughly, but surely if one would look over the field for even eight days and honestly learn what he could he would hardly have any sympathy for the "Marmont issue," which independence means to the islands. On every hand I talked with men who have been here and one and all are of the same opinion, that independence would mean ruin and anarchy. The people cannot govern themselves. A gentleman told me he was invited to aid in celebrating an occasion with a street carnival in a town in one of the provinces and all seemed propitious for a grand time, but they couldn't agree among themselves, had a row and the whole thing was a failure.

I cannot do better in closing than to quote from an impartial writer who has made a thorough study of conditions on the ground. He says:

The Philippine islands were acquired in 1898 and civil government through the commission of which President Taft was the first head, was inaugurated in 1901. For ten years, through its civil representatives congress has exercised absolute control and it is not indulging in hyperbole to say that the achievement marking these ten years of rule has been little short of marvelous. The internal improvements that have been effected, and the improvement that has taken place in the condition of the country and the people seem well nigh incredible when compared with the conditions that existed ten years ago. The building of roads and bridges in all sections of the islands, and of railroads on some of the principle ones has facilitated the marketing of products and stimulated a general interchange of commerce and communication among the people, thus tending to weld the many diversified tribes into a more homogeneous whole.

Facilities for inter-island transportation have been provided where before none existed and the system that already existed has been immeasurably improved, while coasts and waterways have been chartered and the whole safeguarded by a chain of lights that mark the rocks and shoals and guard the mariner safely in storms and darkness. Harbors have been dredged and protected, and docks built at the principal ports. Public buildings of a permanent character have been erected in nearly every provincial center and in many other important places. Labor has been assisted and protected and a system of virtual peonage which had existed from time immemorial has been eradicated with the result that the laborer is now better paid and free to seek and accept employment where he will. He is at liberty to sell his product in the best market that offers and there is more general and just division of the country's wealth among these people. The Philippines today enjoy a measure of practical self-government far beyond anything he ever had or expected under the dominion of Spain. In fact, many residents bitterly complain of his conduct at present, declaring that he has been spoiled and made entirely too independent, so that even now the problem of help is a serious one.

A comprehensive system of education has been instituted affording immense benefit to those availing themselves of it; and greatest of all the many dialects of the island will be gradually merged into a common language—our own. Manual training is being added to labor. A wise use is being made of the public lands and all are invited and urged to take a free homestead and seek economical independence. A wise fiscal system based on the gold standard has been inaugurated and maintained with great benefit; the commerce of the islands is expanding; the unstable and fluctuating currency of former times and contributing in no small degree to a marked degree of confidence. Insular finances have been placed on a sound financial basis, taxes are moderate, and there is no tax on personal property.

Expenses have been kept within receipts the credit of the islands is first class and the debt to the government at Washington not one cent, except perhaps the difference in the cost of maintaining troops here and at home, and the cost of fortifications that will serve as a means of permanent defense.

In fact, President Taft in his last message to congress declared that our government is over a million dollars ahead in the maintenance of troops in the Philippines.

An efficient body of insular military police, known as the Philippine constabulary, officered in part by officers of the United States regular army, performs its functions in an admirable manner, affords security to person and property and proving wholly effective in maintaining law and order throughout the provinces.

The judiciary of the islands has been organized on a splendid working basis and includes in its personnel a number of Americans as well as some of the best legal minds among the natives and commands the respect of all classes and is the bulwark of the local government. Great work has been done in improving sanitary conditions throughout the islands so that small pox, bubonic plague, and cholera have been practically eliminated. And the people are gradually learning the value of hygiene and the correction of social evils. A modern sewage system and the construction of the water works have been accomplished so that Manila receives its supply from distant mountain sheds, 30 miles away and ranks among the wealthiest cities of the world.

This is in part what has been accomplished under our United States government in the Philippines and constitutes a record that challenges the admiration of the world. The people of the United States may be justly proud of it all, which is no small thing to have effected in ten short years, the regeneration, with but a limited co-operation on the part of eight millions of an alien race to whose customs and language we were strangers.

Hongkong, China, April 16, 1913. Dear Journal:

We left Manila Sunday afternoon, being obliged to sail that day, as steamships have no regard for the day of the week. We were glad, indeed, to get out of the tropical heat of our insular possessions and get a bit of ocean breeze. We took passage on the huge and magnificent liner "Korea" and were fortunate in getting excellent rooms. Mr. Ewert and I had a fine large room all to ourselves and Mrs. Ewert and Henrietta were equally fortunate. The passenger list was small and decidedly select, but we found enough congenial companions to make the time pass pleasantly. At our table sat the ship's surgeon, a pompous and old time mariner who had a supreme contempt for any craft less grand and elegant than the "Korea" and who managed to kill time by eating, sleeping or smoking, as he had no professional duties to perform. Another interesting character at our table was a sweet faced little French woman with a darling baby five weeks old. She was going to Hongkong to meet her husband, expecting to proceed to her native country some time in the future.

There was quite a romance connected with their marriage. The gentleman is a German, but when he met his fate he was so hopelessly involved in Cupid's toils that he learned the French language in order to be able to woo and win the one he loved. My immediate neighbor was a very pleasant gentleman from Manila on his way to the states after a sojourn of several years in the tropics. That much dreaded portion of the Pacific over which we passed was on its good behavior and almost as smooth as a mill pond, much to our relief.

The second morning out we began to encounter Chinese junks of all descriptions and we knew that we were not far from the land of Confucius. Soon jagged mountains appeared, the junks became more frequent and smaller crafts were also seen. Soon after noon Hongkong appeared, the steamer found its moorings and soon launches were quickly alongside, hotel runners swarmed on deck and disembarking began. Our little French woman's husband was one of the first to board the ship and so eager was he to reach his loved ones that he almost jumped into the sea before the launch was moored to the steamship.

We had no trouble in finding a good hotel and are already feeling quite at home, the cool bracing air being a welcome change from the fearful heat of Manila.

The city seen from the bay reminded me very much of Gibraltar, only seen from the water it appeared to be a rather small place, but like the famous city at the entrance of the Mediterranean, it is seen to very poor advantage from the deck of a ship. Hongkong means the land of sweet waters and the city is located on an island of the same name, lying off the coast of Kwangtung province of south China, about twenty miles east of the entrance to the estuary of the Chukiang or Pearl river, locally known as the Canton river. It is essentially a British possession. As early as 1623 efforts were made by the British government to secure friendly relations with the Flower Kingdom, but it took a long time to bring about the desired results and of course China was unable to agree with Great Britain and cede the island to the gentleman known as John Bull. It was the result of settling up certain political differences which had gradually accumulated during the early part of the last century that the island as a special feature of the condition was ceded to Great Britain "in perpetuity" by the treaty of Canton, and on January 25, 1841, accepted and the cession was confirmed by the treaty of Nankin, August 29, 1842.

Its geographical position is twenty-two degrees, sixteen minutes and thirty seconds north latitude and one hundred and fourteen degrees six minutes and thirty seconds east. The island is about ten miles long, by an average of three and one-half miles wide and the southern coast is very much indented with little bays and inlets. Although not large in size, it presents a remarkable appearance, with a rugged skyline. It has continuous mountain ranges, beautifully clothed in green to the top and some of them are about two thousand feet high and form a beautiful picture. The portions of the bay or sea-way between the island and the mainland are from one to five miles wide and form a shelter for the otherwise helpless craft during the typhoons which sometimes prevail in this region, where, scattered here and there, are little secluded bays sought frequently by bathing and picnic parties.

There are many good fishing places and occasionally large turtles are found and adventuresome persons find some sport in hunting the creatures and turning them over. The island contains a large amount of good building stone in the shape of blue and gray granite, excellent for building purposes, but there are no

NOT A TWINGE OF RHEUMATISM SINCE TAKING RHEUMA

"I suffered from Rheumatism for six years; tried different doctors, with no relief. I saw your advertisement and decided to try RHEUMA. "For 14 months, I was so badly afflicted with Rheumatism that much of the time I was obliged to use a cane. I used one bottle of RHEUMA and THE CANE IS IN THE CORNER NOW. No one could be happier to be rid of the pain, swollen knees and badly swollen ankles. I certainly believe there is no remedy for the disease like RHEUMA."—Mrs. Daniel S. Knox, Sverance, N. GEN. ROBERT MANN WOODS

Who will make the Memorial Day address in Jacksonville today. The record of General Wood in the war of the rebellion was notable.

In the spring of 1861 Mr. Woods was studying law in Springfield, Ill., in the office of Hon. Shelby M. Cullom, ex-U. S. senator. When the drums began to beat he laid aside his law books and started out to enlist. Being in delicate health and weighing but 110 pounds, Gov. Yates suggested that he could do more to put down the rebellion with the pen and set him to work in the quartermaster general's office.

In 1862, acting as ordnance officer, he was sent to Louisville, Ky., to arm Illinois regiments which had been sent to the field without arms. In 1863 he was sent by Gov. Yates to inspect the hospitals on the Ohio river where many Illinois sick and wounded were.

After this he was engaged in mustering troops into the U. S. Service until promoted into the office of Gov. Yates, where in the summer of 1864 he was appointed adjutant of the 6th Illinois "Yates Sharp Shooters," to take rank June 27, 1864. Reaching the field at West Point immediately after his appointment, he was mustered in August 15, 1864, near Atlanta.

Adjutant Woods took part in the pursuit of Major General Hood's army toward Chattanooga and return. He was in the all night march through storm and mud to the relief of General Corse at Allatoona Pass, where Sherman signaled from the top of Kennesaw. "Hold the fort for I am coming." His regiment being armed with the Henry rifle, 16 shooters, was almost continuously on the skirmish line. Adjutant Woods was in the engagement at Snake Creek Gap, where the regiment bore the brunt of the battle.

He was in the march to the sea and the siege of Savannah. In the campaign of the Carolinas and all the battles and skirmishes of that march. In the engagement of February 3, 1865, at Salkehatchie when the division on foot waded over a mile in the ice cold water from two to four feet deep, and Lieut. Woods was in charge of the skirmish line that engaged the enemy on the opposite bank. For his part in this engagement Lieut. Woods received honorable mention from Major-General erel Giles A. Smith. Lieutenant Woods was in the great battle of Bentonville, N. C., Sherman's Last Battle, and was actively engaged upon the skirmish line, losing his horse which was shot in the engagement. Following this Lieutenant Woods was brevetted captain and major by the president. Major Woods was in the grand review at Washington and coming with Sherman's army to Louisville, Ky., was engaged in mustering out troops, and was the last mustering officer in the field of the army of the Tennessee. Returning to Springfield, Ill., Woods was appointed by Adjutant General Haynie to write the history of the Illinois regiments for the adjutant general's reports. During this work, in the spring of 1866, he met Dr. B. F. Stephenson, and with Col. John M. Snyder, Capt. John A. Phelps, Capt. John A. Lightfoot, Capt. M. P. Kanan and others organized the Grand Army of the Republic.

Pays Tribute to Morgan County Soldiers.

General Wood, who is at the Dunlap, last night in conversation paid special tribute to the soldiers Morgan county has produced. He said: "Morgan county stands deservedly high in the military annals of Illinois. I mention first Major General Benjamin H. Grierson, of the 6th cavalry, and the great cavalry raid and Col. Matt Starr, for whom your post is named. Major James D. Stacy and his brother Tom of the 6th cavalry, Col. John M. Snyder of the 6th cavalry and 101st Illinois, afterwards military secretary to Gov. Yates and Gov. Oglesby; Col. Chas. H. Adams of the 2nd artillery; Capt. Horace Chapin, the well beloved; Capt. John A. Lightfoot, my assistant adjutant general of the grand army; Major General John A. McClelland, who raised the Kentucky brigade, and Col. James Dunlap, his great quartermaster; Col. Charles H. Fox of the 101st Illinois; Capt. James H. Kellogg, Major Edward McConnell, Capt. Augustus Catlin, Capt. James Burnett and Capt. Alexander Smith, all of them splendid soldiers."

WRITES OF LIFE IN LANDS FAR AWAY

feet long. The pack is placed on end on the shoulder of the bearer, who would waddle along with it across the street to the warehouse and up a good flight of stairs and how he kept the tall, inconvenient load from falling was a mystery, so I decided to investigate the load and see what it was and found it one of the most common articles known to us and yet you would never guess what it was, so I will tell you. It was peanuts, and a big boat load of them.

"They transport hogs in a novel way which on the whole seemed rather agreeable to the captive porker. Instead of putting them in boxes or crates, as we would, they take bamboo slats and make a cylinder about a foot in diameter and lay the swine in that and then he can be borne on the shoulder of a coolie or on carts drawn by the men.

A native sawmill attracted my attention in particular. Several men were busily engaged in making lumber, but it was after a laborious fashion, such as in vogue in Japan. The log is first squared with broad axes and then one end is elevated, challe marks are made indicating the thickness of the lumber required and with hand saws the laborers wearily and tediously saw the whole length of large sticks of timber and how they manage to get their lumber so regular and true is a wonder, but they do it.

I can say for the children in China that they are rather merry and light hearted, though not nearly so much as their little cousins in Japan. For here the struggle for existence is keener and even babies are put to work as soon as they can handle tools or get about, but the children not thus occupied play about merrily and seem to have a good time. One day we accosted a heavy of little boys having a fine time along the wharf and went up to them, when they scattered like a flock of quails, but we soon convinced them that we meant them no harm and they came back laughing and eyed us curiously and had we been able to use their language we might have had a pleasant visit with them.

Our stay in Hongkong has been pleasant and we leave it with happy recollections.

VISITED IN NORTH DAKOTA.
W. D. McCormick of Grove street has returned from a ten days visit in Grand Forks, Devil's Lake, Lakota and Laramie, North Dakota. While there he had the pleasure of meeting Sinclair Russell, Charles Henry, Harry Craig, Jesse Henry and Caleb Warcup, former residents of Morgan county. The farm work is quite advanced in that part of the country. Mr. Craig is very much gratified with conditions there and says it would take a great deal to get him to move back to Illinois.

PASSING OF OLD ASTOR HOUSE

New York, May 29.—The historic Astor house in lower Broadway, for three-quarters of a century one of the best known hotels in America, ended its career today with a mournful procession of patrons passing in and out of the high-vaulted lobby. Many a sentimental toast was offered as some of the "old-timers" lined up at the bar and took a farewell drink beneath the great glass dome of the rotunda. Within a few days the old building will be turned over to the wreckers. A tall office building is to be erected on a portion of the site and it is expected the remainder will be bought by the city and used in connection with the new subway. The property is owned jointly by William Waldorf Astor and Vincent Astor.

Samuel Ruble of Alexander was transacting business in the city yesterday.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

STOCKS CONTINUE TO SHOW DEPRESSION

U. P. DIRECTORS PUBLISH PLANS FOR SELLING FRISCO STOCK.

One Suggests Public Bids for the $126,650,000 Securities Held by Road—Southern-Pacific Loses a Point.

(By Associated Press)
New York, May 29.—The important development today in the stock market which continued to show a degree of depression resulting from the St. Louis and San Francisco receivership was the publication by the Union Pacific directors of alternative plans for the disposal of the company's $126,650,000 Southern Pacific stock. One of these plans is novel in the sense that it suggests public bids after the manner of a city bond offering. Judging from the course of the Harriman issues which were irregular in the early session but became feverish on publication of these plans, traders and the speculative public generally seemed unable to grasp the importance of this latest move. Union Pacific rallied toward the close however, while Southern Pacific made a net loss of one point.

Elsewhere in the active list Canadian Pacific was again prominent for its activity at receding prices. As usual the selling was attributed to Berlin but some of the liquidation was traceable to Canadian sources. The industrial lists was notably firm.

Railway returns for April ranged from good to unfavorable. Lackawanna and Reading coming under the former category with New Haven in the latter.

Illinois Stock Exchange Going Out of Business—The Big Quality Store to Distribute Its Entire Stock at Prices That Mean 33c, 40c and 50c on the Dollar!

This store, one of Jacksonville's most reliable Clothiers and Outfitters, is to retire from business after an honorable merchandising career of over five years. The mammoth stock of new merchandise, consisting of men's, young men's and boys' clothing, furnishings, shoes/ladies' ready-to-wear apparel, etc., of every description, to be placed on sale Saturday, May 31, at 9 a. m., at prices that in many instances will be less than the actual cost of the raw material. This decision to quit business was arrived at by the out-of-town stockholders, who are dissatisfied with their investment here, very unexpectedly, and at a time when every shelf and counter is piled high with new summer merchandise from makers such as the Sincere Brand and the Summer System Clothing, Cluett and Silver Brand Shirts, Wilson Bros. Hosiery and Underwear, Stetson's and King-Bury Hats; in fact, every line is representative of the highest class makers in all America. Had we known that we would come to the conclusion to quit business so quickly we could have arranged to close out much easier, but now we can do the only thing left, that is to turn over our stock to the mercy of the buying public, beginning Saturday, May 31, at 9 a. m., at prices that will astound the most critical buyers. Never before have the people in Jacksonville and vicinity had such an opportunity as this Quit Business Sale. THINK WHAT THIS MEANS! A chance of a life time to save money on bright, snappy merchandise! A chance to buy your requirements for the entire spring and summer season at prices that mean 40 to 50c on the dollar of the actual value. Remember, the greatest of sales opens Saturday, May 31, at 9 a. m. MARK THE DATE! MARK IT WELL! Doors swing open promptly at 9 a. m. Be on hand early, hold your place at the door.

CLOSED. The store is closed today and no one allowed in the building. A big force of help is now busy marking down and arranging stock for the big sale beginning Saturday, May 31, at 9 a. m., rain or shine.

REMEMBER, this sale is positively a ten day closing out sale, at the end of which time any of this stock then remaining will be shipped to auction rooms in Peoria to be disposed of there. Come one, come all, and attend this the greatest closing out sale here in many years.

SPECIAL NOTICE. As this is absolutely a bonafide going out of business sale we would ask the public to come as early as possible as the lots sold cannot be replaced, so come early for the best selections.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE SENIORS PLAN CLASS DAY

Participants Elected for Historic Celebration at Class Meeting at the Home of Prof. J. G. Ames Thursday Evening.

Class day, the Senior class of Illinois college has decided, will be revived this year with all its historic significance. Tuesday, June 10 at 10:00 a. m. is the time set for this celebration which will include the reading of the class poem, prophecy and history, the presentation of suitable gifts to the Juniors and the planting of the ivy accompanied by a genuine old time ivy oration. The election of the participants to this event as well as a discussion of the relation of the class of 1913 to the Alumni fund took place at the home of Prof. J. G. Ames Thursday evening at a business meeting of the class following a delightful 7 o'clock dinner.

Professor and Mrs. Ames outdid themselves in preparation for this luncheon which was served on their commodious south veranda. Although it might be presumptuous to call it the best ever given by this most hospitable class officer, it was, as all agreed, a menu par excellence.

Announcement was made by Miss Genevieve Clark, the president of a communication from Dr. Edward Capps respecting the attitude of the class toward the alumni fund. After a discussion of this subject subscription papers were passed around which were signed by every member present.

Miss Genevieve Clark was named as class poet, John Widenham as historian and Hume Whitacre as prophet. Miss Marion Taylor will have charge of the presentation to the Juniors and Warren E. Hall will be the chorister of the occasion. The ivy oration will be delivered by Roscoe Linder. The planting of the ivy will be immediately preceded by the uniting of all present in singing college songs.

OBITUARY.

James Crouse was born near Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 16, 1847, and died at his home near Lowder, Ill., May 25, 1913, after an illness of five weeks, aged 65 years, 8 months and 9 days. He was united in marriage to Louisa C. Fox on Jan. 19, 1871. To this union were born eleven children, four of whom preceded him in death. He was converted at the death of his oldest child, Oct. 18, 1874, and united with the Methodist church at Murrayville, Ill., where his membership remained until he moved to the Lowder vicinity in 1892, since which time he has been a member of the Lowder M. E. church and one of the trustees for a number of years. His interest in the church was shown by an earnest desire for its welfare and his home was always open for the reception and comfort of his pastors.

Those left to mourn his departure are his devoted wife, five sons, Fox, Eugene, Wesley, Elmer and Ernest; two daughters, Elsie and Bessie, all of whom reside near Lowder excepting Wesley, whose home is in St. Louis; also four brothers and two sisters, George of Murrayville, Ill., John and Thomas of Jacksonville, Ill., Charles of Farmersville, Ill., Mrs. Jennie Fox of Jacksonville, Ill., Mrs. M. B. Johnson of Bayfield, Wis., and seven granddaughters, beside other relatives and a host of friends.

"This saint of God his conflict past,
And life's long battle won at last;
No more he needs the shield or sword,
He casts them down before his Lord;
Oh happy saint forever blest,
At Jesus' feet how safe his rest."

"This saint of God, his wanderings done,
No more his weary course he runs;
No more he faints, no more he falls,
No foes oppress, no foes appal,
Oh happy saint forever blest,
In that home, how sweet his rest."

The funeral services were conducted at the Lowder M. E. church, Tuesday morning, May 27, at 8:45 a. m. by the Rev. Chris Gallener of Springfield, Ill. The remains were then taken to Sinclair, where interment was made in Hebron cemetery, where grave services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Cusic of Jacksonville and Rev. Mr. Wunderlick of Virden.

MANY ATTEND LAYING OF FRANKLIN M. E. CHURCH CORNER STONE

Address Made by Rev. F. A. McCarty of This City—Pastor Conducts Ceremony.

With elaborate ceremony the cornerstone of the new Methodist Episcopal church at Franklin was laid Thursday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering. The program was held in the Franklin park, after which the stone was laid at the church.

The exercises at the park opened with hymn after which Alex Van Winkle, one of the oldest living members of the church, led in prayer. M. B. Keplinger, secretary of the building committee read letters from Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Hamel, wives of former pastors, and from Rev. M. M. Want who was pastor of the church from 1897 to 1900. These letters were to the members of the congregation, congratulating them on their good work.

After the singing of a hymn the ritual prayer was read by Rev. Hy S. Alkire, pastor of Brooklyn M. E. church of this city, and Rev. Mr. Williams of Franklin, and Rev. W. Kettle, pastor of the Franklin circuit, read from the 132 Psalm, and Rev. James Teaney of the Franklin Christian church, read from scriptures. A special selection was sung by the choir and Rev. F. A. McCarty of this city, superintendent of the Jacksonville district gave his address on "The cornerstones," one that was highly appreciated by the large audience.

The remainder of the ceremonies were then held at the church, where Mr. Keplinger read the list of articles that were placed in a box put in the cornerstone by John M. Burch chairman of the building committee. The ceremony of laying the cornerstone was then conducted by Rev. Peter Kittel, pastor of the church, and the rock was put in place by C. W. Buckingham, the architect, E. E. Wells and John Vasconcellos, two of the contractors, while the choir sang a verse from "Rock of Ages." After the doxology benediction was pronounced by Rev. F. A. McCarty.

Those in charge expect to have the new church building completed by October 1, and the total cost will be $20,000. The structure will be an imposing brick church and one of which the members of the congregation have every reason to feel proud.

Quite a number from this city and Waverly attended and as the ceremonies were not concluded until 4:30 o'clock, two automobiles were furnished to bring the Jacksonville people home. Among those who attended were Mrs. Kittner and Robert Seymour, who reside near Franklin and John R. Bonds, whose father assisted in hewing the shills for the church fifty-two years ago.

CHINCH BUGS HERE.

Outlook Indicates Serious Damage—
State Entomologist Gives Methods of Control.

According to Dr. S. A. Forbes, state entomologist, conditions in central and southern Illinois make it almost certain that the farmers are facing the most serious outbreak of chinch bugs ever known to that territory.

The number of bugs that went in to winter headquarters last fall was much larger than that of the previous fall. The dry mild winter enabled fully 80 per cent to pass through the winter successfully, and now enormous numbers have made their way into the wheat, rye and oats fields, and it is almost certain that the number of young bugs which develop in these fields will be enormous. At harvest time these bugs will be near maturity, and the ripening of the grain will deprive them of the green succulent food necessary to their existence and they will migrate to the nearest fields that may provide them sustenance.

Corn Fields Endangered.

Any field of corn adjacent to an infested wheat, oats, or rye field will be attacked at harvest time unless a prompt and vigorous effort is made to put in operation the methods which are effective in keeping them out.

Farmers should examine their wheat fields and see if they are infested with the bugs. If the fields are infested the pest can be successfully and cheaply controlled by the use of barriers of road oil with post hole traps, around wheat fields at harvest time; or if they infest corn early, they can be killed by spraying with certain kinds of laundry soap. The best results can be obtained only by the co-operation of all farmers of a community.

Road Oil Barrier.

The efficiency of the road oil barrier has been demonstrated by Dr. Forbes and his assistants. The most satisfactory results, considering both cost and protection have been obtained from the line made of No. 7 road oil. This material when properly applied, caught all the crawling bugs and was easy to maintain. It has been demonstrated that by means of the road oil line, with traps and the soap spray, chinch bugs from what ever source can be rendered harmless.

State Will Help.

A speaker with practical field experience in the most recent and successful methods of fighting the chinch bug will be furnished free to farmers' meetings to discuss this problem. For this assistance or a circular containing full information as to the best methods to use in controlling the chinch bug, apply to Dr. S. A. Forbes, state entomologist, Urbana, Ill.

Force Migration.

If the bugs are allowed to remain in the small grain fields until they mature they can fly over the barrier and can not be controlled. After harvest, infested fields should be disked to destroy all food for bugs and force them to migrate and be trapped in the barriers before they are able to fly—H. A. McKeene, secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute.

STEEL BRIDGE COMPANY WILL FLOAT BOND ISSUE

Eighty Thousand Dollars Will Be Borrowed to Place Concern in Safe Position—Business is Developing in Splendid Shape.

An instrument was placed on record Thursday in the office of Circuit Clerk Pyatt showing that the Illinois Steel Bridge Co., of this city has given a mortgage for $80,000 to the American Trust Co. of St. Louis on its property here and will issue bonds to that amount. The bonds are of the denomination of $500, bear six per cent and are payable in one, two, three, four and five years. The Illinois Steel Bridge Co., has a paid up capital of $200,000 but the business has grown to such an extent and so much of an increase has been necessary in equipment that some debt had accrued. The money from the sale of the bonds will clear up every dollar of indebtedness and leave the company in excellent condition. The business as before mentioned is growing steadily and larger equipment and more capital are being constantly required. The great volume of business is handled largely through the Kansas City, St. Paul and Oklahoma City offices of the company.

W. E. Crane, president of the bridge company, is a director of the American Trust Co., and the relationship thus existing brought about the loan. The bonds will be offered half in St. Louis and half in Jacksonville and will probably be taken up speedily. The Illinois State Trust Co., of East St. Louis is named as trustee under the mortgage.

Beginning Saturday, the Illinois Stock Exchange will conduct a sale of the entire stock of merchandise of that establishment and the sale will mark the close of five years successful business in Jacksonville for the firm.

When it first located in Jacksonville the firm opened a store on West State street, but after a time increased business demanded increased space and the store was moved to No. 13 west side square, its present location. During the five years a good business has been built up by the manager, Samuel Ettenson, and the salesmanager for the firm, Harry A. Frankel, who is here to take charge of the sale. The stock of merchandise carried by the firm contains complete lines of ladies' and men's ready-to-wear garments of high quality, which will be sold at remarkably low prices. The store is now closed for the purpose of marking down the goods and the sale will begin Saturday morning, May 31.

RECEIVE NO REJOINER.

Washington, May 29.—Although the American reply to the Japanese protest against California land legislation was made ten days ago there has as yet been no rejoinder, formal or informal. The Japanese ambassador did not appear at the state department today "diplomatic Thursday" because he had not received from Tokyo the instructions necessary for the preparation of his note.

This delay, however, is not construed as an indication of any purpose on the part of the Japanese government to drop the negotiations. It is known that extraordinary pains have been taken to prepare a diplomatic communication to cover every point set out in the last note of Secretary Bryan.

IRVING SHUMAN WILL BE NAMED SUB-TREASURER IN CHICAGO.

M. F. Dunlap's Name Withdrawn by Secretary Bryan, Who Will Urge His Appointment to a Diplomatic Post—Edward Hurley of Wheaton Likely to be Comptroller of Currency.

(Special to the Journal)

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Irving Shuman of Sullivan, Ill., mentioned as a candidate for nomination as comptroller of the currency, is to be appointed assistant treasurer of the United States at Chicago, under an agreement reached here today. Senator Lewis went to the white house today ready to substitute for Mr. Shuman, Edward N. Hurley of Wheaton, Ill., who has the endorsement of nearly all the banks of Chicago for the comptrollership. It is stated Governor Dunne and Mayor Harrison will add their recommendations of Mr. Hurley if informed that the president will appoint an Illinois man.

Secretary Bryan withdrew the name of Millard Fillmore Dunlap of Jacksonville, Ill., his candidate for the assistant treasurership at Chicago, and will urge Mr. Dunlap's appointment to a diplomatic post or one in the consular service later. This leaves the way open to the appointment of Mr. Shuman at Chicago.

Henry M. Pindell of Peoria was urged today upon the president by Senator Lewis for appointment as chairman of the civil service commission, to succeed General John C. Black.
